DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

Letter From Private Henry G. Gilbert Indicates Spirit of American Troops—Dog Causes Scare—Polish Recruits Called For—Scheme to Provide Funds For Brooklyn Red Cross—Kenneth H. Hamilton to Enlist in Army.

Private Henry G. Gilbert, who was wounded recently while fighting in France as a member of a New England artillery regiment, visiting to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Gilbert, of Broad street, tells in the most interesting letter that has come from a Danielson soldier, who is fighting "over there" of the experience of being wounded. The magnificent spirit that is a guarantee that America will win in this war, a spirit characteristic of the American troops, runs through the letter, which follows:

Somewhere April 9, 1918.

Dear Mother—Here is a fine "to do" I am in a hospital. I was "got" by a "whizz-bang"—one of those shells you can't hear until it's almost upon you. One can hear the big fellows coming and has 15 seconds to duck into a shell hole—but the whizz-bangs allow but a scant two seconds.

Well, the first one hit a couple of yards behind me and knocked me head-over-heels into a ditch. There I stayed until the mess was over. When I picked myself up, I found my shoulder out of joint and a bit of a shell splinter in my leg. Now I am all fixed up and expect to be on duty again in a very few days. Lucky, eh? Can't tell you what has happened to other of our men or the effect of other shells. But I think, perhaps, the censor will let this one incident pass, since there are no dates or places smuggled into the recital and since you would surely be interested in knowing what happened, in a general way, to your son.

We have experienced gas and, I guess, about all the Dutchmen could hand us—but they'll have to do better than they have done if they break the American spirit! They are not half as dangerous as some of the things I picture them.

The hospital is fine, but, frankly, I would rather be "dukkin'" shells. Everyone here seems to feel the same: there's a chap beside me with his ear blown off and his legs full of shrapnel holes and he, even, dislikes the inactivity. It makes one seem to feel like a deserter to have the boys up there where they never know when they will have to duck for their lives—and you going to a fine white bed where there's no mud and no shells and no danger.

I don't like it. I'd rather hear the shrill whistle of a "whizz-bang" fifty times than be fussed over by a pretty young nurse whose gentle fingers and white lined face remind me too much of you! There's nothing much to the matter but anyway, I tackle the doctor every time he comes around and ask him to let me go back. Now he's got to go walk around the other side of the ward and just grin at me—son-of-a-gun! If he doesn't come through with the goods pretty soon, I'll waylay him!

The remainder of Private Gilbert's letter is of a personal nature and he includes that he be remembered to his friends.

This young soldier, still well under 20 years of age, is one of whom Danielson is very proud. An army made up of boys like him never could be beaten in this world.

Small Dog, Big Excitement.
A little dog owned by Robert Palmer, escaped from his home, at the corner of Franklin and Furnace streets just before 8 o'clock Thursday morning. The monkey was minutes thereafter had succeeded in stirring up a mild sensation and gaining general circulation of a mad dog scare.

Just what happened to the dog to make him act differently than he normally was in the habit of doing is not known. He was seen for the first time on Broad street, he began to act queerly and exhibit some symptoms that are characteristic of dogs suffering with rabies. Finally he made his way on to the property of a Broad street resident and was promptly shot by Wellington E. Bitgood, a high school student.

It is possible that the dog was suffering from a fit or some other affliction, but the number of cases of rabies that have been developing in Connecticut during the past few months made the case a suspicious one and stirred up a little flurry in the Broad street section for a few minutes.

POLISH YOUNG MEN Being Urged to Enlist by Recruiting Officer Krayewski.

Polish young men of Danielson and vicinity who have claimed exemption or deferred classification under the ground that they are aliens are being urged by Sergeant S. J. Krayewski, who is recruiting for the section for the United States and Canada and made ready for fighting in France, under officers of their own nationality, to enlist for service. Sergeant Krayewski says this is the only exemption from which volunteers have not been obtained.

Sergeant Krayewski points out that the Polish residents owe a great deal to the United States and that they should come forward and offer themselves for service in the interest of this nation, which gives them the splendid opportunities they are enjoying. The young citizenship of Connecticut is moving forward to the battle lines and it is regarded as fully incumbent upon the Polish young men here to come forward as the young men of their race are doing in every other section of Connecticut where the race is represented.

Ladies' Night at Elks' Lodge—Man Found in Automobile Sent to Jail—District Has Furnished Total of 294 Men—Thirty to Be Called Soon For Physical Examination—Writ of Error Filed in Union Block Case.

The annual ladies night entertainment of Putnam lodge of Elks brought together here Thursday evening a happy party that was splendidly entertained by the ever generous and hospitable members of Elksdom. The members and their ladies came from all the surrounding towns over which the local lodge has jurisdiction and found awaiting them an evening of pleasure that showed the attention that had been given to arrangements by the committee in charge.

From 8 to 10:15 there was dancing, music by Fay's orchestra of Providence. This dancing period was followed by an intermission during which a lunch was served. The menu included lobster salad and the usual accessories, cake and ice cream. There were flowers for favors.

Philips and McGowan, Boston, entertainers, delighted the party with some of the new ideas from the amusement world.

After the entertainment dancing was resumed and continued an hour after midnight.

Sent to Jail.
Thomas Block, who has been employed in Providence, was sent on Thursday morning from the city court by Judge M. H. Geisler to spend 30 days in Brooklyn jail.

Block, who was charged with having been intoxicated, was found sitting in the automobile of Dr. Marguerite Bullard, at the garage. He could not give a satisfactory explanation as to how he happened to be there.

He told Judge Geisler that he had come from Providence to Putnam in an automobile, but his story relative to this journey was not quite as clear as it might have been, though it seemed probable that Block is a comparatively harmless man.

Polish Recruits Needed.

Sergeant S. J. Krayewski, recruiting officer for the Polish army that is getting volunteers from Polish colonies throughout the United States, was at the office of the local board and took a list of all the Polish young men whose names appear on the board's records and who have claimed deferred classification on account of being aliens. Sergeant Krayewski found that there are 38 such young men in the district made up of the towns of Putnam, Thompson, Killingly, Woodstock, Eastford and Ashford, and he also made mention of the fact that not one volunteer for the Polish army has been obtained in this local board's district, the only district in Connecticut of which this may be said.

Sergeant Krayewski's mission here is to arouse the Polish young men of eastern Windham county towns to alien themselves with the military forces that are fighting for the ends for which the United States is now desperately engaged, that Poland may be restored and again take its place in the world as a separate nation, backed by glorious traditions of the past.

In the near future Sergeant Krayewski is to arrange for a recruiting rally here. Speakers will be brought to this city to address the Polish young men in their own language and it is hoped to arouse their patriotism to a degree that will result in the procuring of recruits.

Already more than 25,000 for this Polish legion have been obtained in the United States and more than 15,000 in Canada. The majority of these being trained in Ontario and will see service overseas, fighting under the direction of the French government, which sponsors the formation of what is to be a wonderful fighting force.

Sergeant Krayewski will labor in all of the towns in this vicinity to procure recruits, and he has offered himself. Volunteers for this service will be trained and offered in France by commanders of their own nationality.

TOTAL OF 294 MEN

Furnished Federal Service From Six Towns Since Last June.

Figures compiled at the office of the local board show that 294 men have gone into the fighting service of the United States since the last June. The list of names of the men in the six towns since registration day, on June 5 of last year. This includes not only the men who have come into the army through the operation of the selective service law, but also the registered men who have been given permission to enter in army or navy or who enlisted before permission was required.

Remainder in Class 1 in this district are 144 physically fit men, gentlemen.

The same merciful ends, Mrs. S. I. Frink of that place issued the following statement: "There seems to be a question in the mind of some people as to how the funds for the War Relief Association are obtained. The annual membership fee of course helps materially, but when it is known that about one hundred dollars is needed monthly to keep material on hand for the sweaters, socks, shirts, bandages etc., which are of the greatest necessity to our sick and wounded boys, it will be plainly seen that something must be done. So far the funds have been contributed mostly by out of town friends who have most generously donated money, worded, or cloth. Many of our village ladies spend one, two or three afternoons a week at the War room while those unable to get to the rooms are working none the less faithfully at home. The greater part of our work is sent direct to Mrs. Duryea to France, whose grateful letters of acknowledgment make us feel that we are indeed working for a most worthy object."

It remained for our patriotic citizen, William H. Clewley, to devise this novel plan. He is asking all who will, especially the men, to join his Red, White and Blue club by giving one dollar or more a month to the War Relief Association. He already has quite a list of names and of course more will be added. It is planned to have at the semi-annual meeting of the War Relief pledge cards and it is hoped that these two schemes will give the treasurer a definite sum with which to carry on the work.

Can Enlist in Navy.
The local board has issued to Kenneth H. Hamilton a certificate that will permit him to enlist in the United States navy. Mr. Hamilton formerly was a member of the old 13th company, most of the members of which are now in France.

Reveries.

There were large congregations at the masses at St. James' church on Thursday morning.

It was a very pleasant meeting. The leader, Miss Elsie Rodler, read an apt illustration comparing the effect of a bad temper in a household to the creaking of a door.

FAREWELL SOCIAL.

A farewell jollification in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Richardson was a feature of the choir rehearsal Thursday night. Mr. Richardson preached Sunday at Putnam and on Monday he and Mrs. Richardson traveled to Providence for a long promised visit to their son.

Their musical ability and knowledge have been freely used and much appreciated.
